

Is My Project in an Opportunity Zone?

Follow the steps below to find out if your project is in an Opportunity Zone:

- 1) Find your Census tract.

Go to <https://geomap.ffiec.gov/FFIECGeocMap/GeocodeMap1.aspx> and enter the project site address into the search bar.

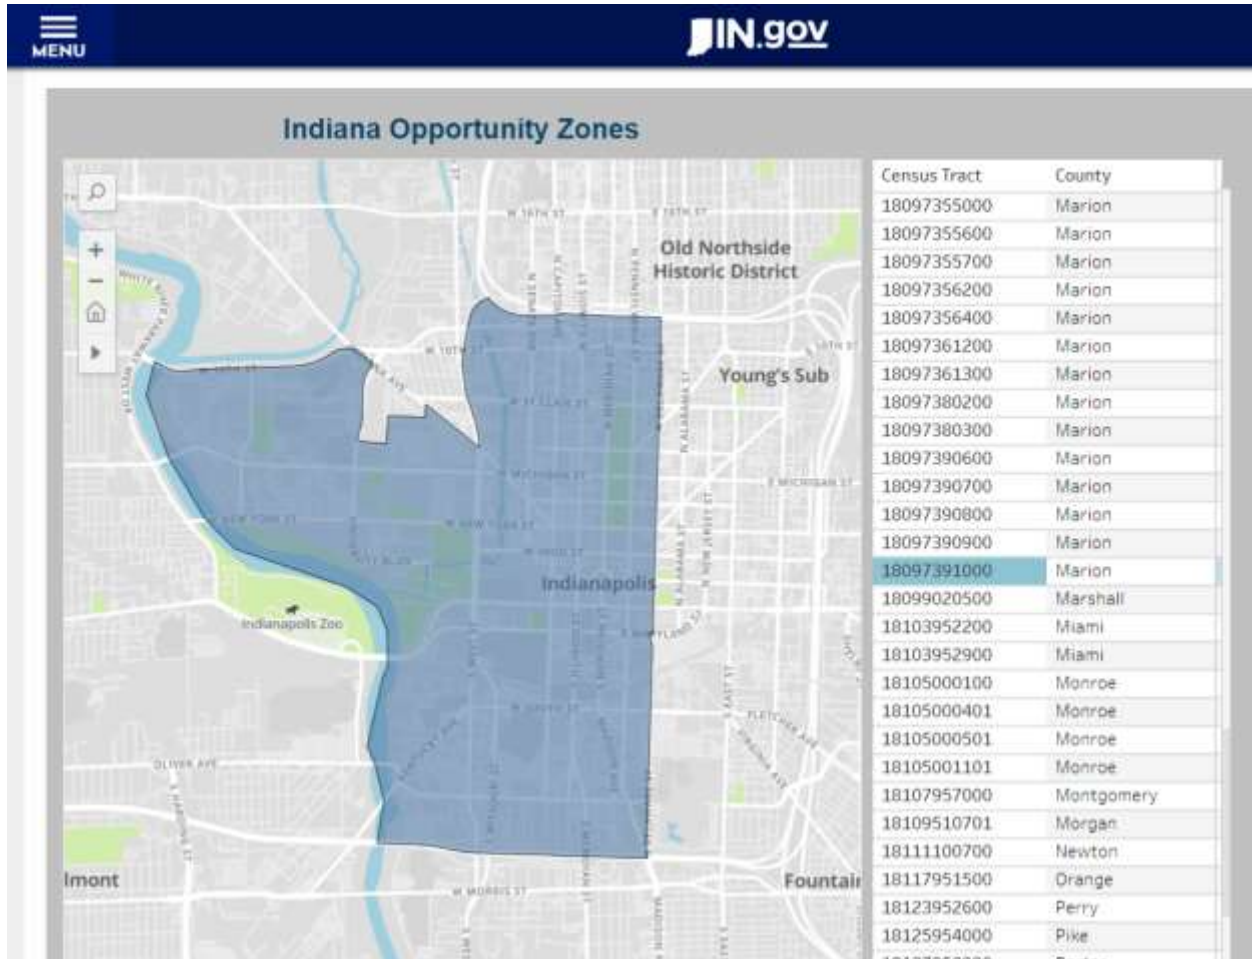

Make note of the Census tract numbers in the State Code, County Code, and Tract Code boxes. These numbers make up your Census Tract code (18|097|391000 in this example).

2) Find your Census tract in the list of Indiana Opportunity Zones.

Go to <https://www.in.gov/gov/2979.htm> and search the list of Indiana Opportunity Zones. Census tracts are sorted numerically.
